《查令十字街 84 号》背后的“金小姐”

Dear Frankie

Thought of you last night, my editor from Harper's was here for dinner, we were going over this story of my life and we came to the story of how I dismantled Landor's "Aesop and Rhodope" for the "Hallmark Hall of Fame." So we were going over this anecdote and Gene (my editor) said "Who is Landor?" and I plunged into an enthusiastic explanation and Gene shook her head and cut in impatiently: "You and your Olde English books!"

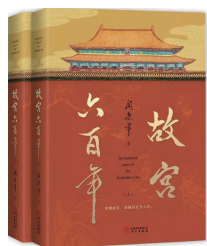

You see how it is, Frankie, you're the only soul alive who understands me.

xx

p.s. Gene's Chinese.
